My loving home story begins when I had no courage to face on new challenges, when I worried a lot. I couldn't rest at night because of all the worries, thinking of them made my mind weak, but I couldn't stop thinking about it.

One night before I went to bed, I spoke to my mother and told her about all my worries, how unlucky I felt. She told me that I was not to be worried when I felt I was not worried and gave me courage for facing a new challenge.

The next day, when I was at school I was energetic and ready for anything that used to challenge me a lot, I was not worried at all just by thinking about the words my mother had said to me last night feeling happy every step I move.
